LINDA LUCAS

I paint or draw just about every day and often into the night working on commissions or inventory for juried festival shows. Quick studies lead to dropping in and mingling transparent light washes of acrylic inks on wet Arches watercolor paper. Over the glowing ink wash, a light sketch with watercolor pencils in various hues will provide a map of how balanced the color and shapes will end. Watercolors are applied wet into wet from light tones to mid tones over the light acrylic background and the application of more ink offers added rich tones.

I enjoy finishing off a painting with limited use of watercolor pencils for they offer the personal detail of the artist's presence.

I'm greatly influenced by the astounding beauty of nature and find that I'm never without subject ideas. My previous career in the florist industry for 25 years was a great influence on how I approach my art today. For over 18 years now I have participated in juried Fine art shows which provides a wonderful opportunity to personally meet patrons who are drawn to my work.

Teaching workshops in watercolor, acrylic inks and silk painting for many years around the country has been a rewarding and meaningful way to share with beginner to advanced fellow artists. The workshop area becomes filled with inspirational floral & nature arrangements & still-life setups. Reference materials and instructions included for each session. Daily painting demo lessons on skills and techniques as well as personal individual attention for each student provide the right environment for productive inspiration and artistic results!

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear NFWS friends:

It was great to see so many of you after the long summer break. I’m always glad to get together with old friends and greet newcomers to our excellent organization. Barbara Fox was our September artist. She provided a marvelously organized demonstration of her classical approach to transparent watercolor. Since she paints in layers, meticulously adding transparent richness with each subsequent application, she actually prepared each stage of her painting ahead of time. We could see her step-by-step process from drawing to multiple applications to background without having to wait for the necessary drying time if she had worked on one sheet of paper throughout the demo. Terrific job, Barbara.

In October we’ll welcome Linda Lucas, early NFWS member and supporter. I’ve long admired the sensitivity and skill that Linda brings to her art. Linda’s workshop, to be held at the Kenan Center, has filled but you’ll have an opportunity to watch her weave her magic when she demonstrates at the October Members Meeting at the Burchfield Penney Art Center. Incidentally, Linda has donated a quite beautiful painting to NFWS that we will raffle off this Fall. Tickets are $5 apiece or five for $20.

Also coming up is the Fall Juried Exhibit, October 14-November 19, at the Kenan Center. Sixty-six artists submitted 119 paintings. Sixty-eight paintings have been accepted. The Artists Reception and Awards Ceremony will be held on Sunday, October 21, 2-5 pm with awards presented at 3:30. Just a reminder to the artists who are in the exhibit: please bring a sweet or savory finger food for the reception.

I look forward to seeing all of you in October. I love what we do and I am so grateful for the many Board and Committee members who make it all possible. They are listed elsewhere in this issue along with the year’s schedule of Guest Artists. Set aside the time to partake of the bounty and lend a hand when you can. And say thanks when you see the workers.
