William Skip Lawrence: Expressive Artist

"I love everything about painting. I love feeling the paint, seeing a rich color spread under my brush onto a surface and the play between colors coming together. I love watching my idea take form until a painting finally says "it" and I am surprised and delighted every time. I love sharing my art and knowing that someone is moved by it.

I see no hierarchy among realism, abstraction, non-objective painting styles. I see only the relationship of colors, shapes, surface and line that either thrills or bores me. When these elements come together to communicate an artist's intention to the viewer, to connect with someone, it is nothing short of wonderful."

Finding Your Own Voice: Explore your voice using Watermedia

"We'll explore not what things look like, but how you feel about it. Over five days, we will explore the reaches of your own personal creativity.

We will be doing a demonstration, then exercises, then a group critique. The goal is to help you paint in a way that expresses how you feel, to express the feeling- tone of it."

William "Skip" Lawrence is an artist and a teacher who has spent his life pursuing what he loves—art. As a nationally recognized painter, author, and teacher, Skip Lawrence is renowned for his extraordinary work as a colorist. He regularly has his work included in books, magazines and national publications, while he also juries national and international exhibitions. When Skip is not busy teaching or painting he is working on other projects such as The Palette Magazine—a magazine that he and one of his colleagues, Christopher Schink, publish together. Skip has also made a variety of instructional videos. He has also found time to write a book titled "Painting Light and Shadow in Watercolor."
